

Communities impacted by National Grid net metering caps

Of the 351 cities and towns in Massachusetts, 171 are affected by National Grid's net metering caps being reached. That means no new municipal, community shared, many low income and other larger rooftop solar projects can move forward in these communities until the legislature raises the net metering caps. To learn more about solar in Massachusetts, visit www.solarisworking.org.

Abington	E. Brookfield	Lawrence	Oxford	Topsfield
Adams	East	Leicester	Palmer	Tyngsboro
Alford	Longmeadow	Lenox	Pembroke	Upton
Amesbury	Easton	Leominster	Pepperell	Uxbridge
Andover	Egremont	Lowell	Petersham	Wales
Athol	Erving	Lynn	Phillipston	Ware
Attleboro	Essex	Malden	Plainville	Warren
Auburn	Everett	Manchester	Quincy	Warwick
Avon	Fall River	Marlboro	Randolph	Webster
Ayer	Florida	Medford	Rehoboth	Wendell
Barre	Foxboro	Melrose	Revere	Wenham
Belchertown	Franklin	Mendon	Rockland	West
Bellingham	Gardner	Methuen	Rockport	Bridgewater
Berlin	Gloucester	Milford	Rowe	W. Brookfield
Beverly	Goshen	Millbury	Royalston	West Newbury
Billerica	Grafton	Millville	Rutland	West Stockbridge
Blackstone	Granby	Monroe	Salem	Westborough
Bolton	Groton	Monson	Salisbury	Westford
Boxford	Great Barrington	Monterey	Saugus	Westminster
Bridgewater	Halifax	Mt. Washington	Scituate	Westport
Brimfield	Hamilton	Nahant	Seekonk	Weymouth
Brockton	Hampden	New Braintree	Sharon	Whitman
Brookfield	Hancock	New Marlboro	Sheffield	Wilbraham
Charlemont	Hanover	New Salem	Shirley	Williamsburg
Charlton	Hanson	Newbury	Shutesbury	Williamstown
Chelmsford	Hardwick	Newburyport	Somerset	Winchendon
Cheshire	Harvard	N. Adams	Southborough	Winthrop
Clarksburg	Haverhill	N. Andover	Southbridge	Worcester
Clinton	Hawley	N. Brookfield	Spencer	Wrentham
Cohasset	Heath	Northampton	Stockbridge
Dighton	Hingham	Northborough	Stoughton
Douglas	Holbrook	Northbridge	Sturbridge
Dracut	Holland	Norton	Sutton
Dudley	Hopedale	Norwell	Swampscott
Dunstable	Hubbardston	Oakham	Swansea
E.Bridgewater	Lancaster	Orange	Tewksbury	